COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

RIOTING IN CHESTER.

Riot followed riot in the street car strike situation at Chester, Pa., last night. Mob violence was in force in all sections of the city, and a dozen strike-breakers, who were in charge of the cars of the Chester Traction Company, fared badly at the hands of strike sympathizers.

At 10:30 last night a mob of 3 000 men charged a car at Seventh street and Edgemont avenue. They had followed the car for four squares, and were throwing stones and hooting the police, who had several prisoners aboard who were creating a disturbance at the car barn.

There were a dozen policemen on the car, and each had a revolver in his hand. Following a shower of bricks, Sergt Knoden fired into the crowd. His action was followed by more shots from the revolver of Denby, a negro policeman. But the shots did not frighten the mob.

The crowd paid no attention to the policemen until the City Hall was reached. Then they turned and women and children were trampled to the ground.

The rioters apparently had been awaiting the withdrawal of the State police. During the past six weeks it has been said, "Wait until the constables go, then we will have some fun."

The fun came last night when dozens of cars were attacked. A car jumped the track at Eddystone late yesterday and a crowd of boys and men attacked the motorman. Chief Burgess Frank Kerr jumped on the car and tried to protect the motorman. A brick struck him in the head and he was taken to Crozier Hospital, where his condition is serious.

A strike-breaking motorman shot a boy during the rioting.

MRS. VANDERBILT DIVORCED.

Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt by Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme Court of New York yesterday, on the report of David McClure, the referee who was appointed to take testimony and determine the findings in the suit instituted by Mrs. Vanderbilt. Justice O'Gorman confirmed the report of the referee that Mr Vanderbilt had been guilty of misconduct, and directed that Mrs. Vanderbilt be granted a judgment of absolute divorce.

The divorce decree provides that Mrs. Vanderbilt may marry during the lifetime of Mr. Vanderbilt, but prevents him from marrying during her lifetime. The custody of William H. Vanderbilt, the only child of the marriage, was awarded to Mrs. Vanderbilt. No provision was made for alimony in the decree, nor was the subject alluded to in the report of Referee McClure.

The referee's report developed that testimony had been secured from Mr. Vanderbilt's valet concerning the misconduct of his employer on a railroad train a year ago last October in Virginia.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Elsie French, daughter of the late Francis Ormond French, president of the Manhattan Trust Company and a member of the directorates of several railroads. She was married in January, 1900, to Mr. Vanderbilt, who had inherited upward of $60,000,000 from his father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt.

Mr. John Riha of Vining, Ia., says, "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS.

Without opposition, Savannah, Ga., was chosen as the place for the 1909 meeting at yesterday's session of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly at Greensboro, N. C. The sessions were featured by a lively discussion regarding Calvin's views on infant salvation.

Professor Smith argued that it was hurting the church to keep up discussion as to infant salvation and infant damnation, and that it was a dead issue. He thought the church had reached the point where it did not care particularly what John Calvin believed on the subject.

After arguments upon both sides Professor Smith's motion to eliminate the subject was lost by a vote of 86 to 55.

Most of the speakers expressed the opinion that the Presbyterian Church of today does not teach or believe in infant damnation.

The resolution adopted by the assembly of 1886 upon the temperance issue was reaffirmed. This decried the liquor evil, "and recommends to all our people the use of all legitimate means for its banishment from the land."

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are small, safe sure and gentle little pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

GORHAM, deceased, all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make prompt settlement of their indebtedness, and all persons to whom said estate is indebted are requested to present their accounts properly certified for settlement.

[COMMUNICATED.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL DAY.

Hear me while I chant a lay—listen well,
And a picture grand portray—time will tell,
Of the boys in Southern grey—Oh! so true,
Who to glory led the way—now so few.
For they fought for what was right—Oh! so well,
Naught the glory then can blight—though they fell.

For their freedom and their hearth, as true
As the land that gave them birth—Ah! what then?
See the history—it will tell your ken,
History never read so well—not till then.
Now at rest beneath the sod—calmly sleep,
And their souls are with their God—while we weep.

But with us their memory'll stay—as today,
And to them we'll homage pay—ea'h alway.
And the laurel leaf will lay on their grave,
Though the flag they loved so well cannot wave.
May the lesson they have taught ever dwell
In the land for which they fought—Oh! so well.

Then with hearts and hands high the stone we'll raise,
Thus more fittingly than words—chant their praise;
And let boys and maidens sing—loud and long,
To their virtues tribute bring—in their song.
Thus inspire to deeds as great—man and boy,
Then to serve the land they loved will be joy.

—Anne Chew Dorsey Coquillett.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 26, 1908

THE GATHERING yesterday evening around the Confederate monument at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets manifested the same interest as that shown during the past nineteen years, or since the figure of the Confederate soldier was placed on its pedestal at that point. The spot on which the statue of the wearer of the grey stands is historic and has been made sacred from the fact that the members of the military companies of this city which formed a part of the Army of Northern Virginia assembled there before the stars were out of the skies on the memorable morning of May 24, 1861. They there bid good bye to friends and home and went forth to battle for rights held sacred by their sires and which were their heritages. The fate of war, however, was against them, and, although they bowed in submission to its decree, the inborn principles for which they contended have never been relinquished. Over two score years have passed since the remnant of the Alexandrians returned to their homes, and at this time but a corporal's guard of the original band remains in the land of living. Most of them, however, were present yesterday at the commemorative services. Assembled with them were their children and grandchildren who were manifesting interest in the proceedings and seemingly animated with the purpose of perpetuating the memories of those of their progenitors who were wearing medals, attesting the fact that they were ex-Confederate soldiers. The services yesterday were appropriate and well rendered, and there was a noticeable earnestness among all who participated in them. The oration of Col. Robert E. Lee, grandson of the great commander of the Army of Northern Virginia, was one of the most spirited ever delivered in this city on Memorial Day. While he occupied but a short time in delivering his address, he passed over the history of the country from colonial days. His familiarity with all the issues through which the nation has passed and his rapid portrayal of them, together with his eloquence and magnetism, electrified his hearers. Generally the many children who gather around the monument on memorial days become restive at times and annoy their elders by running to and fro. It was not so yesterday; all present gave the speaker close attention and it was observed by many that the speaker enlisted the attention of both old and young.

IT IS reported that desperate efforts to force the House to accept a currency bill for the benefit of Wall street financial interests are being made by Speaker Cannon and the Senate oligarchy headed by Senator Aldrich. Not in this nor in any other session have such extreme means been resorted to to crush the independent spirit in the House and compel unwilling acquiescence in the indefensible scheme of legislation. The public buildings bill, which has been agreed to in conference, but is still in the hands of the conferees, is being used as a club over members. The specter of a panic is being flourished before the frightened gaze of timid men, and assurances are given that without currency legislation there is certain to be a recurrence of the money famine of last October, which will ruin both the country and the republican party at the same time. The democrats have been aroused to apposition, and Senators Teller and Culberson have served notice upon Senator Aldrich that if any compromise measure is brought back into the Senate they will talk it to death, or compel Congress to remain in session through June and July. Notwithstanding this, Aldrich is proceeding upon the assumption that at the last moment the democrats will weaken. Will they?

SENATOR FORAKER calls upon the 10,000,000 colored people of this country to wield the ballot in showing their resentment to President Roosevelt's action in reference to the Brownsville affair. The Senator is probably more anxious to use the negro as a bludgeon against Mr. Roosevelt than he is to right any imaginary wrong the black man has suffered. The Senator in his appeal to the colored element announces his belief in divine providence which, he is confident will eventually exonerate the colored soldiers who are charged with shooting up Brownsville. Many years after the hanging of John Brown a man who had assisted in the execution paid the debt of nature. A republican paper in announcing the decease said that justice sooner or later would overtake all who had anything to do with placing Brown on the scaffold. It was remarked at the time that the observation of the paper referred to brought to mind the case of an apprentice boy who wished for the death of his boss the first day he saw him. Forty years later the youth's wish was gratified. Divine providence is likely to play as conspicuous part in the case of the negro soldiers as it did those mentioned above.

NOTICES of an immediate reduction of 17.94 per cent. in wages were yesterday posted in the Fall River Iron Works Company's seven mills, owned by M. C. D. Borden, of New York. About 5,000 operatives are affected. This does not look much like the return of prosperity which the republican leaders are prating about.

THE House leaders are credited with a "new trick to fool the public" in their method of passing the campaign contribution bill. It was, says the Philadelphia North American—with the two unimportant exceptions that it wasn't new and the public wasn't fooled.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., May 26.

Orders were issued by the War Department today providing an elaborate military escort on the occasion of the removal of the body of Vice President George Clinton, from the old Congressional Cemetery, to Kingston, N. Y., tomorrow. The military escort will be commanded by Major General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff and Major General Duvall with their aides.

Senator Allison and Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, called at the White House today for the purpose of urging the president to appoint John Gibson, a prominent lumberman of Manila, to a place on the Philippine commission. Gibson was formerly from Iowa. There are three vacancies on the Philippine commission—two native members and one American—which the president will fill within a short time.

Senator Depew, of New York, had a conference with the president today over the employes' compensation bill and at the conclusion of his talk announced that the executive was opposed to all amendments to the measure. "The president said that in view of the limited time at our disposal" said Senator Depew, "he would regard all amendments to the bill as being presented for the purpose of either delaying its passage or killing it altogether."

The republican members of the conference committee on the Aldrich and Vreeland currency bill held a long session today. No agreement was reached and another meeting will be held at three o'clock this afternoon but there is decidedly a more hopeful feeling that legislation to provide an emergency currency will be adopted before the session ends. It is quite certain that no bill which may be evolved by the committee will contain any asset currency features.

The eyes of the country are now open upon Speaker Cannon. His dictum that the Senate and House must remain in session until the currency problem can be solved is now accepted and for the first time in years, the Senate leaders, Aldrich and Hale, have been making daily pilgrimages to the office of the speaker, trying to learn just what he wants. Vice President Fairbanks sits at the opposite end of the big building—just sits, fans and looks. President Theodore Roosevelt spends his working hours signing such bills as Speaker Cannon sees fit to pass through the House, and plays tennis in the afternoon. Members of the House are kept on the anxious bench by Mr. Cannon ordering Representative Bartholdt to hold up the public buildings and ground conference report until the currency measure goes through. The Senators except Senators Aldrich and Hale, are doing just enough to keep in training, but they seem to be perfectly at home in that role. Cannon alone is it.

With a distinguished group of guests, including the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Elizabeth Shaw Oliver, eldest daughter of the assistant secretary of war, was married at noon today to Francis K. Stevens, of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Stevens, of Lawrence, L. I. Rev. Roland Cotton Smith performed the ceremony, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents on N street. Eben Stevens brother of the groom, acted as best man. Among the most valued gifts to the couple was a magnificent etching from the president inscribed to "To Miss Elizabeth Shaw Oliver with the love of Theodore Roosevelt." President Roosevelt abandoned the regular semi-weekly meeting of the cabinet, in order to be present at the wedding.

The entire morning of the second day of the trial of Gaston Philip who shot and killed Frank Macaboy, his cabman friend, in a corridor of the Arlington Hotel May 18, 1907, was taken up in an endeavor to secure a jury.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor, now of New York, was on the floor of the House this evening. About fifty years ago Mr. Pryor, Representative in Congress from the Tairty-six Virginia district, then a young man of thirty, became engaged in an altercation with John F. Potter, Representative, of Wisconsin. Potter during a debate attacked Pryor and was immediately challenged. Potter being the challenged party, determined that he and Pryor should take places in a dark room and fight with bowie knives. Pryor did not fight that duel. Potter has since died.

Launch of the Michigan.

Camden, N. J., May 26.—The battleship Michigan was successfully launched at the New York Shipbuilding Company's yard this morning. The officials of the League island navy yard and a detachment of 250 sailors and 150 marines were in attendance. The gunboat Dolphin fired a salute.

Miss Carol Bornes Newberry, daughter of the assistant secretary of the navy, christened the vessel.

The Michigan is more than half completed. She is a sister ship of the South Carolina, and represents the first attempt by the American government to construct a vessel the principal object of which is the carrying of as many heavy guns of even calibre as the displacement will permit. The displacement of the Michigan is 16,000 tons as against the nominal 17,000 tons of the English Dreadnaught class.

The Oklahoma house and senate passed a bill yesterday which provides for a penitentiary term for any employer who refuses work to an employe on account of the latter belonging to a labor union. The bill also prohibits Pinkerton detectives from working in the State.

The shipping of the big green pea crop on the Rappahannock river is now at its height. Extra steamers have been put on to move the crops and many of them are loaded to their full capacity long before they reach the mouth of the river. The crop is a full one this year, and planters are having satisfactory results.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator Beveridge secured consideration of the government liability bill, but no action was taken upon it.

Senator Dick reported favorably a bill to establish a bureau of mines and mining.

In the House the conference report on the child labor bill for the District of Columbia was agreed to.

The proposition to reduce the size of the hall of the House by removing the desks was overwhelmingly defeated.

The House agreed to the conference report on the pension appropriation bill.

The report on the bill providing tracks to the Washington navy yard was agreed to.

The House passed the Senate bill revising the so-called Dick militia law. The bill was prepared by a committee of the National Guard Association, and provides, among other things, that the militia, when called out, shall serve during the term of their enlistment, instead of nine months, as heretofore; that when so called out they shall be preferred over any volunteer forces it may be determined to use, and authorizes the secretary of war to supply to the different states uniforms, ammunition and equipment without charging it against their quota under the appropriation for that purpose.

A conference on a financial measure was held last night.

Roughly outlined, the compromise plan is to preserve the principle of bond-secured currency which the Aldrich bill recognized, but there is a possibility that certain high classes of commercial paper may also be recognized as a basis for emergency money with a time limit. The effect of the bill will also probably be limited, and a provision for a currency commission to evolve a better plan included.

SUITOR SHOT.

Declaring her fifteen-year-old daughter, Margaret, was too young to have suitors or to receive attentions from young men, Mrs. James Thomas, of Monroe, N. C., on Sunday night, shot and seriously wounded William Luther, aged twenty-one, who refused to heed the mother's warning to stay away from her house.

Margaret and Luther, had been sweethearts for a long time, despite the protests of Mrs. Thomas, who had no particular objection to Luther personally, but did not want her daughter's mind taken from her studies. She served notice on the young men of the town to keep away from her front gate, and quit monopolizing her porch, or there would be trouble.

All but Luther faded away, but he was a stayer, and aided and abetted by the girl, ignored mamma's ultimatum, vowing they would never give up each other. He continued his calls to the mother's disgust and anger. Friday night came the declaration of war. She told Luther if he crossed her threshold again she would shoot him. Luther laughed at her and then she borrowed a shotgun from a neighbor.

Sunday night Luther came back. He found Margaret and he also found Mrs. Thomas with a loaded shotgun. He proceeded to the yard and Margaret followed him. He begged Margaret to fly with him, and Margaret was more than willing. As they were speeding toward the gate, Mrs. Thomas discharged the shotgun, and Luther fell, peppered with bird-shot. Physicians are busy picking the lead pellets out of his flesh.

Ballot Boxes to be Opened.

New York, May 26.—The fight of Wm. R. Hearst to have certain of the ballot boxes containing the votes cast in his mayoralty fight with George B. McClellan opened and the vote recounted has been successful. In the Supreme Court today Justice Lambert overruled the objections of Eugene L. Richards, counsel for Mayor McClellan, and directed that the ballot boxes be opened.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, May 26.

SENATE.

For the third time the Senate Journal was read in full today, but the time consumed was not so great as heretofore. The reading was completed in thirty-five minutes. Its approval followed after five minutes discussion.

Senator Wetmore today introduced a bill making October 21 in each year a legal holiday to be known as "Discovery Day" in honor of Columbus.

Senator Fulton today delivered in the Senate what he called an "omnibus speech." He frankly admitted having been requested to do so to kill time. Mr. Fulton chiefly devoted himself to discussing the resolution offered by Teller declaring that the preservation of the constitution, the maintenance of the principles outlined in the declaration of independence and the recognition of States rights are essential to the perpetuation of the government.

HOUSE.

Every republican member of the House found today when he opened his desk the most tangible and convincing proof that the leaders are determined to make a real attempt to put a currency bill through this session. In every desk was a printed notice from the "whip" stating that every man must be in his seat today, as the currency bill would probably be brought up for consideration, and all votes were needed. The conferees of the House and Senate had a session, and the report spread that they would agree on a measure today or tomorrow.

In a debate over the adoption of the conference report on the military academy bill Mr. Slayden criticised sharply the California members for voting for a bill which authorizes the education of four Filipinos at West Point. "They talk about the yellow peril and vote for the black death. They may some day have cause to regret that a yellow sky in the east so absorbs their attention that they cannot see a black cloud in the south. Perhaps the confusion and inconsistency of the Pacific coast may yet furnish the solution of the problem of how to meet the demand for labor."

The House agreed to the conference report on the military academy appropriation bill. The bill only needs the president's signature to become law.

"That designates the high water mark of snobbery," exclaimed Representative Holliday (rep. Ind.) in the House today, as he gave vent to his feelings regarding the recent barring of a sailor from admittance to a restaurant and of a soldier from the privileges of a theatre because they wore a uniform. He said he recommended no legislation, "because we cannot make such creatures as those who insult the uniform decent and patriotic by legislation." Evidently thinking this a little strong he expressed the opinion that the keepers of these places where the insult had been committed, perhaps yielded to the wishes of "degenerate patrons who do not like to come in contact with a real man."

Mr. Bayne had pushed through the House leave to members to paint as many speeches as he desires for five days after Congress adjourns.

Mr. Williams led the democrats in opposing the Payne resolution. He said it would take the republicans more than five days to explain their ridiculous attitude in this session.

What a difficult task the republicans are having to keep a majority present in the House was demonstrated today, when, with seven republicans voting with the democrats, the Payne resolution for "leave of members to print," was carried by only a majority of six.

On practically every roll call, the doors had to be closed to secure a quorum.

THE METHO DISTS.

Two more bishops were declared elected by the Methodist Episcopal General Conference in Baltimore yesterday. Four of the eight provided for have been chosen, and the voting will continue today.

Rev. Dr. William A. Quayle, of Chicago, was elected bishop on the eleventh ballot, which was cast Saturday and counted yesterday.

On the twelfth ballot Rev. Dr. U. W. Smith, of Pittsburg, was elected.

Those now in the lead for the episcopacy are Rev. Dr. W. S. Lewis, of Sioux City, Iowa; E. H. Hughes, of Indiana, and Robert McIntyre, of Los Angeles.

The majority report of the temperance committee indorsing the work of the Anti-Saloon League was adopted after a three-hour debate in which the prohibition force opposed the report.

It was decided that the Freedman's Aid Society is to have white and colored secretaries, both to be elected by the conference.

Baltimore, Md., May 26.—On the fifteenth ballot for bishops at the general conference of the M. E. Church, announced at noon, Revs. Drs. W. S. Lewis, of Sioux City, Iowa, and E. H. Hughes, of Green Castle, Ind., were elected, thus leaving two more bishops to be elected.

Waving handkerchiefs and singing the doxology, the delegates to the conference today received three commissioners of the Methodist Protestant Church, who bore the answer of the latter church regarding union. The Methodist Protestant Church not only agreed to appoint a commission, but called on the Methodist Episcopal Church to take steps to reunite all branches of the Methodist church in this country.

Killed By Lightning.

Detroit, Mich., May 26.—Reports received today show that three Michigan farmers were killed by lightning during the severe electrical storm that swept the State last night. Lightning also struck and demolished a 150-foot steel light tower at Grand Rapids. No one was injured, although a street car filled with people, was missed by but a few feet when the tower fell.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Bryan Challenges Taft.

Washington, D. C., May 26.—From his home in Lincoln, Mr. Bryan has sent a telegram to Secretary Taft, who he thinks will be the republican nominee, inviting him that they jointly with all other candidates demand of Congress the enactment of the McCall campaign publicity bill. Mr. Bryan says that there is no chance of the Crumpacker bill passing the Senate and that the people demand information as to large campaign contributions.

Later in the day, Secretary Taft sent Mr. Bryan the following reply:

"Your telegram received. On April 30 last I sent the following letter to Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections of the Senate:

"'My Dear Mr. Burrows:—I sincerely believe that it would greatly tend to absence of corruption in politics, if the expenditures for nominations and elections of all candidates and all contributions received and expenditures made by political committees, could be made public, both in respect to state and national politics. For that reason I am strongly in favor of the passage of the bill which is now pending in the Senate and House bringing about this result so far as national politics are concerned. I mark this letter personal because I am anxious to avoid assuming an attitude in the campaign which, it is quite possible, I shall never have the right to assume, but so far as my personal influence is concerned, I am anxious to give it for the passage of the bill.

"'Very sincerely yours,

"'WILLIAM H. TAFT.'"

"Since writing the above in answer to inquiry I have said publicly that I hoped such a bill would pass.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Secretary Taft was one of the first callers at the White House today and it is understood that he took up with the president the subject of Mr. Bryan's telegram.

The Texas Flood.

Dallas, Texas, May 26.—Wearing the appearance of a city under martial law, with armed guards everywhere, Dallas today has turned to relief and rescue work to succor the 5,000 people made homeless by the flood and to care for the bodies of the drowned as rapidly as they are found. A few corpses have been recovered from the branches of the trees, where they were caught as they were hurled down by the torrent, or picked from pieces of wreckage. For the most part these bodies were washed down from points above, and no one here can identify them. A few other bodies have been picked up in eddies or pools left by the retiring flood.

For the most part, however, Dallas must search for its dead miles below here, the current having been so swift that victims were swept away. Sheriff Ledbetter clings to his estimate that one hundred persons perished and thinks the number may run higher.

Estimates of the loss vary from $1,500,000 to $8,000,000.

Today the Trinity river is receding. Scenes of desolation are revealed everywhere throughout the suburbs and inundated factory districts. Hundreds of cottages, washed miles from their original locations, mark the track of the flood. It is feared many bodies are in these houses.

Today's reports indicate havoc was wrought around Dallas. In the lowlands the water reached a width of five miles. Here lived hundreds of coal burners, farmers and laborers. The great rush of water coming without warning in the night, it is feared swept many to death.

The Pope's Encomium upon the President.

Rome, May 26.—In an address today to one hundred pilgrims from Brooklyn, whom he received in private audience at the Vatican upon the request of Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American college in Rome, Pope Pius passed and encomium on President Roosevelt in speaking of the necessity of preserving the right proportion between the struggle for wealth and the devotion to the higher things of life. "I admire your president," the pope told his hearers, "for his fight against those who are seeking to amass wealth regardless of of the means employed. I admire him, also, for his deeply respectful attitude toward the Catholic church." "I have always been deeply impressed," he told them, "by the industry, intelligence, power and faith of Americans. It seems to me that Americans are consumed by a double fever; the love of gold and devotion to religion. You should try to curb your passion for gold so that it will not lead you into immoderate desires. There is such a thing as the righteous, honest wish to gain wealth that you may provide your families with the comforts of life and that you yourselves may accomplish much in the divine task of charity. I trust God will keep your devotion to religion. I trust the Catholic religion of America will continue to refine your sentiments and purify your souls. Religion is a good guide in all steps of life, whether it be in business, society or politics." Then followed the pope's tribute to Roosevelt. After receiving a blessing from the pope, the pilgrims withdrew.

Thaw's Disappointment.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 26.—The assurance that District Attorney Jerome will desperately resist any attempt to have him removed from Matteawan to an easier place of confinement has upset Harry Thaw seriously. Worry lest he be returned to the asylum for the criminal insane offset his pleasure at the reconciliation with his wife, and he is understood to have given the most emphatic instructions to his counsel to appeal from Justice Morschauser's decision to the highest court if Jerome will not come to his terms. Thaw and his lawyers, it is rumored, have agreed that it will be necessary to wait about a year, provided Justice Morschauser's decision cannot be upset on appeal before another attempt can be made to secure the former's freedom with any show of success.

Though the story of Harry and Evelyn Thaw's reconciliation rests on the highest authority and despite the fact that the dropping of the latter's marriage annulment suit is attributed to the restoration of amicable relations, Mrs. Thaw's lawyer, Dan O'Reilly denies that the couple is closer together now than at any time in the past.

A facetious burglar broke into the house of an expert Chicago detective and stole jewelry and money from under the sleuth's pillow as he slept.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 26.—The market was under some pressure from London at the start, arbitrage brokers selling 20,000 shares, causing some fractional recessions. Later, however, buying orders came in from several sources causing a resumption of the upward movement and during the greater part of the first hour sharp advances were made in a number of the more active issues. At the end of the first hour there was fresh selling pressure and the gains made were quickly lost, prices reacting to below yesterday's closing in many cases.

After the first hour the stock market showed a firmer tone and recovered part of the loss sustained on the reaction, but intense dulness prevailed for long periods.

GEN. MACKENZIE RETIRES.

Brig. Gen. Alex. Mackenzie, chief of engineers of the army, was placed on the ret red list yesterday with the advanced grade of major general.

Nearly all the army officers on duty at the war department and all the officials and employes of the engineer office called on him yesterday and took official leave. The visit of the employes of the engineer office was marked by the presentation to Gen. Mackenzie of a beautiful ebony gold-headed cane.

Chief Clerk P. J. Dempsey, who made the presentation on behalf of his associates, testified to the love and devotion of all the employes of the office for the retiring official, and declared that every civil employe in the office, from the youngest to the oldest, and from the lowest to the highest, had contributed to the purchase of the remembrance.

"We crave your acceptance of it," said Mr. Dempsey, addressing Gen. Mackenzie, "not for its value in dollars and cents, but as a slight testimonial of our love and affection. It is presented to you, not in virtue of the fact that you are an officer of the army, nor yet because of the exalted rank to which you have attained, but simply to attest our great personal respect and love for you as a man. It is gratifying to us to know that you are to be advanced a grade in rank as you leave us, and that the one star now worn on your shoulder is to be replaced by two, but there remains for you in the future a promotion of far greater import than any that can be bestowed by our president or any earthly sovereign and it will be yours when, in answer to the summons, 'to come up higher,' you wrap the drapery of your couch about you and lie down as if to pleasant dreams, conscious that the world is better from your having lived in it."

ATTACKED BY THUGS.

In broad daylight, and in one of the densely populated portions of New York, three thugs late yesterday afternoon made a daring attempt to hold up and rob three bank messengers carrying $43,000 in cash from one of the bank's branches to its main building.

That they failed to get clear with the valises filled with coin and bills which the bank employes were carrying was due to the stubbornness with which the messengers resisted the attack, and to the bravery of a young Polish waitress in a restaurant, who so impeded and delayed the leader of the attacking gang that he fell an easy victim to two policemen who came running to the rescue.

The messengers were employes of the Jefferson Bank and were on their way from the branch, at Clinton and Houston streets, to the main bank, on Canal street. While on First street three men jumped upon them and threw red pepper in their faces, the leading thug attacking Samuel Edelman, who carried the bulk of the money, grabbing his money bag and attempting to run with it. The other thugs took care of Joseph H. Velsor and Abraham Stern, the other messengers.

Edelman tried to shake his assailant off, but was faring badly under the pummeling when Eva Javoraicka, a waitress in a near by restaurant, grabbed the leader of the attacking band by the arm. She screamed loudly for help.

Policeman Gilon heard the cries, and, rapping for help ran up in time to take a hand.

The highwaymen put up a stiff fight, and Edelman got stabs in the face, eyes, neck, hands, body and arms. After the trouble was over he was taken to the office of Dr. Adler, where he was temporarily treated. He was almost unconscious from loss of blood, and at the hospital, where he was removed in an ambulance, it was feared he would die.

Elder was also severely cut, as were two policemen. Gilon managed to get one of the thugs down and by a liberal clubbing to reduce him to submission. The other two escaped.

The man arrested gave his name as Cosimo Riccobono. The police last night arrested Riccobono's father, Giovanni Riccobono, and his two brothers, Salvatori and Dameano Riccobono, who are held as suspects for a further examination today.

MILLIONS SPENT IN NATIONAL CAMPAIGNS.

Recent debates in Congress on a national publicity bill have revealed some interesting facts, not the least of these being that as far back as 1860, when Lincoln and Douglass were the opposing candidates of the republican and democratic party respectively, tremendous amounts of money expended for campaign purposes. In only two presidential elections since 1860 have the republicans spent less than democrats, having at all other times spent more. Those two years were in 1884, when James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland were the candidates, and in 1892, when Harrison and Cleveland were the nominees of their party.

The following shows the total expenditures of both the republican and the democratic parties since 1860:

1860—Abraham Lincoln, republican candidate; expenses, $100,000. Douglass, democratic candidate; expenses, $50,000.

1864—Abraham Lincoln, republican candidate; expenses, $125,000. McClellan, democratic candidate; expenses, $50,000.

1868—U. S Grant, republican candidate; expenses, $150,000. Seymour, democratic candidate; expenses, $75,000.

1872—U. S. Grant, republican candidat ; expenses, $250,000. Horace Greeley, democratic candidate; expenses, $50,000.

1876—R. B. Hayes, republican candidate; expenses, $950,000. Tilden, democratic candidate, $900,000.

1880—Garfield, republican candidate; expenses, $1,100.00. Hancock, democratic candidate; expenses $355,000.

1884—James G. Blaine, republican candidate; expenses, $1,300,000 Cleveland, democratic; expenses, $1,400,000.

1888—Harrison, republican candidate; expenses, $1,350,000. Cleveland, democratic candidate; expenses, $855,000.

1892—Harrison, republican candidate; expenses, $1,850,000. Cleveland, democratic candidate; expenses, $2 350,000.

1896—McKinley, republican candidate; expenses, $1,650,000 Bryan, democratic candidate; expenses, 675,000.

1900—McKinley, republican candidate; expenses, $1,950,000. Bryan, democratic candidate; expenses, $425,000.

1904—Roosevelt, republican candidate; expenses, $3 500,000. Parker, democratic candidate; expenses, $1,250,000.

[The above figures are going the rounds of the press, but there is evidently a mistake in some of them.]

Elopers at Large.

Vienna, May 26.—Friends of Princess Emelie Luis of Feuerstenberz, supposed to have eloped with Gustav Koczian, an automobile agent, are still vainly raking Europe for the missing young people.

The Princess is generally considered the prettiest young woman in the circles of the Teutonic aristocracy. She met Koczian at Carlsbad and fell so deeply in love with him that her mother brought her back to Vienna. Koczian followed and is supposed to have had several secret meetings with his sweetheart, before their disappearance.

Father Bernard Pringmerer, pastor of Holy Trinity Catholic Church, in Chicago, is today searching his parish for a strange woman who slipped into the church yesterday evening and abandoned a four-weeks old child in one of the rear seats.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES.

The programme of the memorial day services yesterday was carried out in every detail and in the most successful manner.

The graves of known deceased Confederate soldiers had been decorated during the morning and later the monument at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets was bedecked with flowers.

The members of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, and M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Veterans, preceeded by the Reliance Drum Corps, after a short march, reached the stand at the south of the monument about 5:40 o'clock where a large crowd had gathered for the purpose of enjoying the music and listening to the speaking.

The choir, composed of girls, boys and gentlemen from church choirs, led by Miss Blanche Rotchford, had taken their places on the porch of Dr. McGuire's residence. The girls were attired in white and wore red sashes. After the rendition of an appropriate hymn Rev. C. D. Bulla, pastor of the M. E. Church South, invoked a blessing upon the assemblage. Another hymn followed, after which Past Grand Commander W. A. Smoot formally introduced Col. Robert E. Lee, who was to deliver the oration.

Col. Lee was welcomed by great applause. He began his address by speaking of the appropriateness of observing the 24th day of May in Alexandria, the town of Washington, containing old Christ Church, and other historic and endearing landmarks, with Mount Vernon but a short distance away; also to the fitness of the hallowed spot where the audience had gathered and where in 1861 Confederate soldiers had departed to battle for principles sacred to the southern heart. Mount Vernon with its memories of revolutionary days and Alexandria with those connected with the Southern Confederacy were interwined, and equally righteous. The speaker then rapidly portrayed the issues which brought on the war against George III., the second conflict with Great Britain in 1812, and the subsequent history of the country in which the slavery question played a conspicuous part. Col. Lee then graphically pictured the advent and progress of the four years' civil war and the valor and self-abnegation of the Confederate soldier during that memorable conflict. Col. Lee's spirited utterance, his eloquence and the masterly manner in which he handled his subjects brought forth considerable applause. While the speaker dealt with rock-ribbed facts, his address was punctuated with some humor and his references and quotations enlisted the undivided attention of his hearers.

At the close of Col. Lee's oration the choir rendered another hymn, after which the procession reformed and marched to Christ Church where the Confederate mound was strewn with flowers by the members of Lee Camp and M. D. Corse Camp, while the choir sang "Abide With Me," after which a salute was fired by a detail from the Alexandria Light Infantry composed of Capt. Slaymaker, Sergeant Hawkins and eleven men. When "taps" had been sounded the ceremonies closed.

EPISCOPAL HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED.

The second annual track meet between the Episcopal High School, of this city, and the Central High School, of Washington, took place on the former's grounds at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION.

Armed with a warrant charging abduction of Estelle Acton, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Theodore Acton, a farmer, who lives in the vicinity of Fort Washington, Md., Sheriff Frank Hurd, of Prince Georges county, Md., went to Washington last night in search of Lewis H. Griffith, owner of a saloon near the reservation. Griffith and the girl were believed to have succeeded in boarding a Norfolk steamer, after an exciting flight to Washington from Fort Washington. It was later learned, however, that a couple answering the description of the runaway parties last night purchased tickets at the union station at this place for Columbia, S. C.

When your food seems to nauseate take Kodal. Take Kodal now and until you know you are right again. There isn't any doubt what it will do and you will find the truth of this statement verified after you have used Kodol for a few weeks. It is sold here by W. F. Creighton & Co.

"Say! your shoes are beauties," said a prominent citizen to a friend this week. "Where did you purchase them?" These shoes are the Hess; I bought them at J. A. Marshall & Bro's, 422 King street.

THE NEW BONDS.

The city auditor reports that there has not been a single day since he mailed, or had placed in the hands of the holders of the bonds, papers bearing on the subject, in which he had not received the written acceptances, and also been told in conversation on the street and in his office, that the plan was satisfactory and the exchange would be made. The acceptances for today before ten o'clock amounted to $19,500, and the day's work will no doubt be augmented by additional acceptances. While of the whole amount received and filed up to Tuesday, fully sixty per cent. was brought to the auditor's office, or addressed to that office, yet the banks appear to have shown commendable interest in the matter as they promised. The whole $19,500 handed in this morning was through the banks, $14,000 by the cashier of one, and $5,500 by a member of another bank, and the whole amount was held by seven different persons.

STREET CAR SCHEDULE.

The schedule of the electric car that runs between the ferry wharf at the foot of King street and union station was the subject of a conference last night between Mayor Paff, the committee on streets of the city council and Superintendent Percy Clift, of the Washington Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric Railway. There have recently been complaints of the failure of the car to meet the incoming ferryboat, and also connect with the incoming and out going trains. Superintendent Clift said that the car was being operated at a loss of about $136 a month and alleged that it would be impossible to meet each train at one end, and the boat at the other end. After the meeting Mr. Clift stated that the electric railway company's officials thought that the car should be run for the convience of the greater number of people and that more people were hauled to and from Union station than from the ferry wharf.

"THE SENATE."

An open session of the Young Men's Senate will be held tonight at the Young People's building of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The following programme will be rendered. Instrumental trio, Mr. Hall, violin; Mr. Smith, mandolin; Mrs. Smithers, piano; recitation, Miss Nina Tanner, solo; Marshall Doble; "When Moses Came Back," J. Randall Caton and David N. Hulfish; recitation, Miss Blanche Stansbury; instrumental duet, Miss Smith and Miss Williamson; recitation, Mrs. T. N. Hulfish. Rev. E. V. Regester, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will receive portraits to be presented to the Young People's building. Rev. C. D. Bulla, chaplain of the senate, will make a suitable response, which will be followed by an instrumental trio, composed of Mrs. Smithers, Mr. Hall and Mr. Smith. The programme will conclude with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

DEATH OF WM. McK. FISHER.

The interment of Mr. William McKnight Fisher, who died in New York on Friday, was made in Hollywood, Richmond, Saturday morning, Rev. Dr. G. C. Kelly, pastor of Broad Street Methodist Church, conducting the services. Mr. Fisher was a man of marked business ability. He was connected with the T. C. Williams Tobacco Company for many years, and later entered the service of the American Tobacco Company in New York. He had not been in good health for some time, but was seriously ill for about a week only. News of his death came as a shock to his friends. Mr. Fisher was a grandson of the late William H. McKnight of this city. He married Miss Annie Townes Barber, daughter of Mr. E. A. Barber, of Richmond. She died several years ago.

RAILWAY TO WASHINGTON.

Within the last week has come the announcement that a company of capitalists from York, Pa.; Hagerstown, Md.; Martinsburg, W. Va., and Winchester, Va., have started an enterprise for connecting Shepherdstown with Martinsburg, W. Va., and it with Charlestown, W. Va., and Winchester, Va. It is also stated in the announcement that it is the intention to run the line eventually to the Potomac river, as a means of reaching the national capital.

Another similar project is being talked of at Winchester, according to a dispatch from that city, to the effect that capitalists there are considering the feasibility of building an electric railroad from Winchester, by way of Leesburg and intermediate points, to Washington.—[Richmond News Leader.

Joseph Williams, colored, held by the coroner's jury that investigated the sinking of the steamer Trenton on the 3d instant, was taken before Justice Caton yesterday afternoon and committed for a future examination. Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent appeared for the commonwealth. Williams was without counsel. Williams, it will be remembered, confessed he had opened the portholes, and had forgotten to close them which caused the steamer to sink.

THE OPERA TONIGHT.

As has been stated, the comic opera Fatinitza will be presented at the Opera House tonight at 8.15 o'clock. This performance will in all probability surpass anything of the kind ever given by a visiting semi-professional company and a packed house is expected. The public is notified that the curtain will rise promptly at the hour above stated and patrons are requested to be in their seats before that time.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Henry Washington, generally known as "Gobbler," colored, died suddenly last night about 9 o'clock near the corner of Oronoco and Patrick streets. Dr. Moore, the coroner, after viewing the remains, deemed an inquest unnecessary. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of Washington's death. The deceased was about forty years old.

SEARCHING FOR THE BODY.

At a late hour last night the body of the man who jumped or fell from the Southern Railway bridge, Sunday evening, has not been recovered by the police. The police boat Vigilant was used yesterday until darkness began. It is claimed by relatives of the drowned man that his death was due to an accident and that he did not commit suicide.

The Left Twin.

The survivor of twins is sometimes credited with curious powers. In folklore he takes his place with the seventh son and with the child born with a caul. All these are supposed to have either special powers of healing or in some cases to be gifted with the mysterious power of second sight. "In Essex, England," says W. G. Black in his book on "Folk Medicine," "a child known familiarly as a 'left twin'—i. e., a child who has survived its fellow twin—is thought to have the power of curing the thrush by blowing three times into the patient's mouth if the patient is of the opposite sex." This is folklore, pure and simple. Another country notion generally held is that if twins are boy and girl the latter will never become a mother. The physiology of the subject is obscure, but there is probably ground for the belief. Another idea not infrequently met with is that the intelligence of twins is below the average. It is always difficult to prove a negative, but it is very doubtful whether facts support this notion of limited intelligence to any extent whatever. It is much more probable that their physical strength is likely to be something less than normal.

What's In a Name?

"Come here, Bates!" roared Dr. Bigwig, head and only master of the Cramton village school. "I have today received—ahem!—a letter from Mr. Johnson informing me that his son is unable to attend school in consequence of a thrashing you yesterday inflicted upon him. Is this a fact, Bates?"

"N-n-no, sir!" quailed Bates. "I never touch 'im."

But Dr. Bigwig did not believe, and two minutes later Bates was asking for permission to stand up in class, the benches being of wood.

On the following day Johnson returned, and Dr. Bigwig sought justification of his act before the whole class.

"Did you tell your father that Bates thrashed you?" he asked.

"No, sir," piped the youth.

The master's countenance clouded.

"But your father wrote to me, saying that Bates did it!" he thundered.

"I know 'e did!" sniveled Johnson. "It were Billy Beauchamp did it, sir, but father couldn't speel Beauchamp, so he wrote Bates."—London Answers.

His Desire to Reform.

Discussing poverty on one occasion, the Dutch poet and economist Van Eeden said, "We want reform, and we want it about as badly as a Dutch student I knew in my youth.

"This student's chum said to him:

"'Look here, I'm tired of the life I've been leading for the past two years. I'm going to reform. This morning I shall attend a lecture.'

"My student, a confirmed idler, yawned, put down his pipe and answered:

"'Yes; it would be splendid to reform, and yet the beer is very good here this morning, isn't it? I tell you what we'll do. We'll let my dog Wilhelm decide whether we reform or not.

"'Wilhelm decide! How will he do it?'

"'Oh, it is very simple. We'll tell the waiter to bring a piece of sausage. We'll set the sausage before Wilhelm, and if he eats it we stay where we are. If he doesn't, we reform and go to lectures.'"—Washington Star.

Landseer's Persistent Wooer.

Charles Landseer was a brother of Sir Edwin "and for some years," says the writer of "Leaves From a Life," "was the victim of the most extraordinary persecution that I should think any man ever met with. An eccentric woman fell desperately in love with him and used to pester him first with the most extravagant love letters and then by lying in wait for him whenever he left the house. Finally she issued invitations to the wedding, prepared breakfast and an enormous cake and called for poor Mr. Landseer in a carriage and pair, the horses decked out with white satin streamers and she herself dressed most gorgeously as a bride. But that was the end of the persecution. Her friends took her away, and Mr. Landseer remained a bachelor to the day of his death."

Forest of Strange Trees.

The most extraordinary forest in the world occupies a tableland some six miles in width between 300 and 400 feet above the sea near the west coast of Africa. The peculiarity of the trees of this forest is that, though their trunks are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only one foot. No tree bears more than two leaves, and these attain a length of six and a breadth of two feet. The flowers make gorgeous crimson clusters.
